Congratulations on your admission to St. Bonaventure University!

Based on your excellent academic record, the Russell J. Jandoli School of Journalism and Mass Communication faculty and I would like to invite you to apply for a School of Journalism and Mass Communication Distinguished Scholars Scholarship. As a recipient, you would join a prominent community of highly qualified students who have a record of academic achievement and are pursuing career paths in journalism and communication.

The Distinguished Scholars Scholarship is named after the founder of the Journalism and Mass Communication department — Russell J. Jandoli (left) — who was committed to a values-based tradition of excellence, accomplishment and providing the very best education. Scholarship recipients will join a long list of students who have gone on to excel in the professional fields of their choice. That’s because we concentrate on teaching our students how to gather, analyze and communicate information. There are few occupations that don’t value those skills, and our graduates use them in a variety of professions. We also pride ourselves in weaving ethics into each of our courses because we believe the society we send our students into deserves the highest standards possible.

As a scholarship recipient, you are eligible for an additional scholarship of at least $1,000, renewable each year based on satisfactory academic performance and continued enrollment in the Jandoli School.

To apply for a Distinguished Scholars Scholarship, complete the form providing information about your participation in communication-related extracurricular activities and SUBMIT THE FORM BY FEBRUARY 1. In the event that applications exceed available funds, the awards will be made based on academic merit and extracurricular participation. Instructions for submitting the application are included.

We look forward to welcoming you to St. Bonaventure University.

Sincerely,

Dr. Pauline W. Hoffmann
