

Sant'Anna Internship Potential Socially Distanced Positions by Academic Field

The Sant'Anna Institute Internship program offers work placements in the following academic fields.

Below the course code recognized by our school of record (Jacksonville University) for each field, you will find a list of sub-areas and a selection of work placements that could be potentially socially distanced, if necessary.

Please note that the work placements depend on availability and therefore, specific placements may be requested but not guaranteed. There may also be potential placement opportunities not currently listed, since new collaborations in the community are constantly being developed.

Matches are made on an individual basis by the Sant'Anna Internship Coordinator, considering each candidate's skills, previous experiences, and goals for international internship.

Please don't hesitate to contact Internship Coordinator, Emily Hammeren, at emily.hammeren@santannainstitute.com for any questions.
