

Assistant/Associate Professor Tenure-Track Position in Counselor Education Remote/Online Position

The graduate program in Counselor Education at St. Bonaventure University invites applications for a Tenure-Track Assistant or Associate Professor position for Fall 2021. Final ranking will be dependent upon the candidate's prior educational background, professional experience, research and scholarship, and service. The tenure-track position is a remote/online position in an online program. The position requires experience in clinical mental health and/or school counseling, as well as a strong commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion. Social justice advocacy, anti-racist literature, and cultural competency are strong tenets of the Counselor Education Program and the selected candidate will teach and mentor students from diverse backgrounds. Candidates with experience in these areas are strongly encouraged to apply. Major responsibilities include: (1) instruction of master's level courses in online formats; (2) curriculum and program development; (3) supervision of counseling interns; (4) student advisement (5) cooperative work with agencies, schools, and the larger regional community; (6) promotion of an active research and publication agenda; and (7) service at the department, school and university levels. Successful candidates will be expected to build and strengthen collaborative partnerships within and outside of the University. Active involvement in state, regional, and/or national professional associations will also be strongly encouraged.

Candidates must have: (1) an earned doctorate in Counselor Education (with preference given to graduates of CACREP-accredited programs); school counseling certification and/or clinical mental health counseling licensure; (2) experience as a school and/or clinical mental health counselor; (3) university teaching experience, particularly with online formats; and (4) a demonstrated commitment to social justice and experience working with diverse populations. Candidates should possess working knowledge and experience with multicultural counseling, culturally-relevant pedagogy and best practices, and sensitivity to the realities and challenges encountered by diverse individuals and populations. Familiarity with national and professional accreditation standards and processes, as well as assessment of student learning and program outcomes, is expected. Candidates with additional scholarly interests or expertise (i.e., quantitative or qualitative research, educational technology, cultural competence, restorative justice, adult learning, human development, cognition, leadership) are encouraged to reference these in their application materials.

The successful candidates will also be committed to the mission of the University. They will promote the Franciscan values of discovery, community, and individual worth, and integrate these into their teaching and curriculum.

Candidates should submit their curriculum vitae, a cover letter that briefly outlines his/her qualifications and philosophy of teaching and counseling, a list of 3-5 professional references, and a sample of scholarly work via email to: Mrs. Mary Beatty (mfbeatty@sbu.edu or 716-375-2394).

Questions about the Counseling Program should be directed to Dr. Latoya Pierce, Executive Director and Chair of the Counseling Search at lpierce@sbu.edu.

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until successful candidates are identified.

About the University

Founded in 1858, St. Bonaventure is a Catholic university dedicated to educational excellence in the Franciscan tradition. We are committed to the constant pursuit of distinction in our undergraduate and graduate programs, our innovative liberal arts core and all of our courses of study.

At St. Bonaventure University, we come to know our students on an individual basis and become their mentors. We strive to bring out the best in every individual. As an academic and spiritual community, we endeavor to prepare our students for the challenges they will face in their professional careers as well as in their personal lives. True to our Franciscan heritage, we encourage students to manifest our values through lives of citizenship and service.
