Lecturer – Music

St. Bonaventure University's Department of Visual and Performing Arts invites applications for a full-time, non-tenure track position at the Lecturer level, beginning Fall 2021, with a specialization in Chorus and Vocal music.

The successful candidate will direct the University's Concert Choir and Chamber Singers, and provide applied Vocal studio instruction to students of all voice types and levels. On occasion, the successful candidate will also teach courses in Music Appreciation (as part of the University's core curriculum) or survey courses in any area of Music History. The teaching load is twelve credit hours per semester.

Candidates must have a Master's degree in music or music education, previous college-level teaching experience, and appropriate piano skills. The ability to provide vocal or instrumental instruction in jazz and/or music theater is desirable.

Founded in 1858, St. Bonaventure University is a Catholic university dedicated to educational excellence in the Franciscan tradition. We are a predominately undergraduate, liberal arts-based institution with 2000 students located in the Allegheny Mountains near Olean, NY. St. Bonaventure University emphasizes small classes, close engagement with students, and a mission-based liberal arts curriculum.

Applicants should send cover letter, curriculum vitae, and contact information for three professional references to hr@sbu.edu

The deadline for application is February 28, 2021. Please address specific questions regarding the position to Dr. Leslie Sabina, Chair of Visual and Performing Arts, Lsabina@sbu.edu
